

A Revolution is being staged by acupuncturists and patients,
one nap at a time.

Documentary by award winning filmmaker Brian Lindstrom

Free Screening

Saturday February 25th 7 to 9

Community Acupuncture, The Calmest Revolution Ever Staged.

In 2002, Portland acupuncturists Skip Van Meter and Lisa Rohleder opened a clinic with the intention of making acupuncture affordable and accessible to people of ordinary incomes. They redesigned the conventional acupuncture business model, treating patients in a communal setting in used recliners, and charging a sliding scale of $15-35 per treatment. Today their model has spawned a growing movement which includes over 175 member clinics nationwide.

What: Free screening of the documentary

When: February 25, 2012

Where:

315 S. Broad Street

Time: 7 P.M. to 9 P.M.

Other: Come enjoy the screening, popcorn, refreshments, snacks, and drinks!

Hosted by these Philadelphia clinics:

Proud members of People's Organization of Community Acupuncture

www.pocacoop.com

